Answer Key

Who are the Archons?

Archons' mission is about defending the Orthodox Faith.

Religious freedom is important so that all over the world we can honor the Patriarch and practice our Orthodox Faith without fear.

There are over 300 million Orthodox Christians around the world!

What is the mission of the Archons?

The Archons of the Ecumenical Patriarchate are a dedicated group of passionate advocates for religious freedom. Rooted in history and tradition, we have made it our mission to protect the future of faith for all. Committed to the progress and freedom of the Ecumenical Patriarchate, we are not just defenders, but champions of hope, equity, and the positive potential of faith.

What does the Orthodox Church believe?

The Orthodox Church is characterized by a profound sense of continuity with the early Christian church as entrusted to the Apostles by Jesus Christ, adhering to the faith and practices defined by the first seven ecumenical councils. The word "Orthodox" signifies both "right believing" and "right worshiping," and so the Orthodox Church is recognized as the bearer of an uninterrupted living tradition of true faith lived out in worship. The doctrine of the Holy Trinity (Father, Son, and Holy Spirit) underlies all Orthodox theology and spirituality. Salvation is never abstract but always personal.

Baloukli Cemetery in Turkey

The vandals broke in pieces the tombstones that were bearing the cross, the names and dates of birth and death of those who died. The authorities are looking into the case. This incident, which has not yet been widely known, has created great concern among the Greek minority in Istanbul. It should be noted that on many other occasions in the past, the government has tracked down desecrations of smaller scale but this is the first time that so many burial plots have been vandalized. The destroyed tombstones will be restored when the work for building the outside fence is completed so that a new "invasion" of vandals will be prevented.

What can YOU do?

Religious freedom is just the beginning. Religious tolerance and peace among the religions requires learning and working to develop good and peaceful relations with people of other faiths, even when we disagree with their beliefs.

Support the Ecumenical Patriarchate by working on behalf of religious freedom for all people throughout the world. Ask your elected government officials—city, state, and national—to pass resolutions supporting religious freedom for the Ecumenical Patriarchate. See which states have already passed resolutions.

Get involved by caring for the environment and tell people you are doing this because the Orthodox Church, under the leadership of the Ecumenical Patriarchate, teaches us to care for the natural world.

You can even go to the Ecumenical Patriarchate. And, if he is there, you can visit the Ecumenical Patriarch and receive His blessing.

You can also see the many historic Orthodox Christian sites throughout Turkey. They are famous for their icons, their churches, and other buildings. More importantly, these are places where the great saints of our Church lived and taught, where Orthodox Christianity was established, and where Orthodox Christians lived for centuries.

Note to Teachers:

- Students can work on the Web Quest alone or in teams.
- Students should be encouraged to show their parents this site as well.
- As a family, they should explore the tabs, read, and watch videos for discussion
- Encourage students to use this resources in their regular schoolwork as well---if given the opportunity to present a speech or research a topic---they have rich content from which to pull.
- Ultimately, we want to build their fluency in matter of Orthodoxy and religious freedom around the world!
